Barbara,

Thank you for forwarding the original evaluation. We would very much like to receive future draft technical documents and would appreciate your forwarding them to us as they are developed. Also, could you please provide us with the link (or otherwise direct us) to the amended evaluation available on the internet? Thanks again for your assistance.

I did not realize the Port of Houston Authority was interested in receiving the draft engineering analysis of the time critical removal action. I have forwarded the email attachment that has the original evaluation. The amended evaluation is on the internet and I can copy onto disc to send to you. As to TCEQ, EPA asked for comments from TCEQ because under the law TCEQ participates in the technical decisionmaking of all Superfund Sites. As to Harris County, EPA entered into an Memorandum of Understanding with them to ascertain technical comments since they are an local government with technical expertese for the area. If you are interested in receiving the draft technical documents as the site progresses, I can forward them to you.

Barbara,

I found the meetings yesterday to be very informative, but I was surprised to find out that neither the draft Technical Memorandum nor the revised draft of the Technical Memorandum had been shared with the Port Authority. Indeed, yesterday was the first time I had heard anything at all about the Technical Memorandum; yet, if I understood correctly, the memos were shared with both TCEQ and Harris County. I would appreciate knowing whether there was a reason why this information was not shared with us, or whether it was simply an oversight; as follow up to yesterday's conversation, I would appreciate your sharing this information with us now. Thank you, Barbara.
